

Stakeholder Relations

Philosophy

OPEN, HONEST COMMUNICATION AND TRUST

ENMAX is committed to fully engaging stakeholders about proposed work on new and existing facilities. Through effective communications and building trusting relationships, we involve stakeholders in a meaningful way, including:

- encouraging stakeholder participation in the decision-making process
- providing timely information
- engaging in open, honest communication
- respecting diverse opinions
- seeking mutually beneficial solutions
- learning from each other
- listening to stakeholder concerns

Being a good neighbour is a responsibility we take very seriously, and respectful communication and earning the trust of stakeholders is key.
